

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW YOUR MEDICAL INFORMATION MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

This Office is required by law to provide you with this Notice so that you will understand how we may use or share your information from your Designated Record Set. The Designated Record Set includes financial and health information referred to in this Notice as “Protected Health Information” (“PHI”) or simply “health information.” We are required to adhere to the terms outlined in this Notice. If you have any questions about this Notice, please contact the office’s Privacy Officer, Edmond Betmaleck, O.D.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR HEALTH RECORD AND INFORMATION

Each time you are examined at our Office, a record of your visit is made containing health and financial information. Typically, this record contains information about your condition, the treatment we provide and payment for the treatment. We may use and/or disclose this information to:

- $ plan your care and treatment
- $ communicate with other health professionals involved in your care
- $ document the care you receive
- $ educate health professionals
- $ provide information for medical research
- $ provide information to public health officials
- $ evaluate and improve the care we provide
- $ obtain payment for the care we provide

Understanding what is in your record and how your health information is used helps you to:

- $ ensure it is accurate
- $ better understand who may access your health information
- $ make more informed decisions when authorizing disclosure to others

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe the ways that we use and disclose health information. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall into one of the categories.

$ For Treatment. We may use or disclose health information about you to provide you with medical treatment. We may disclose health information about you to doctors, nurses, therapists or other Office personnel who are involved in taking care of you at an Office. For example, a doctor treating you for an infection may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. Different departments of an Office also may share health information about you in order to coordinate your care and provide you medication, lab work and special tests. We may also disclose health information about you to people outside the Office who may be involved in your medical care after you leave an Office. This may include family members, or visiting nurses to provide care in your home.

$ For Payment. We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at an Office may be billed to you, an insurance company or a third party. For example, in order to be paid, we may need to share information with your health plan about services provided to you. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

$ For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose health information about you for our day-to-day health care operations. This is necessary to ensure that all patients receive quality care. For example, we may use health information for quality assessment and improvement activities and for developing and evaluating clinical protocols. We may also combine health information about many patients to help determine what additional services should offer, what services should be discontinued, and whether certain new treatments are effective. Health information about you may be used for business development and planning, cost management analyses, insurance claims management, risk management activities, and in developing and testing information systems and programs. We may also use and disclose information for professional review, performance evaluation, and for training programs. Other aspects of health care operations that may require use and disclosure of your health information include accreditation, certification, licensing and credentialing activities, review and auditing, including compliance reviews, medical reviews, legal services and compliance programs. Your health information may be used and disclosed for the business management and general activities of the Office including resolution of internal grievances, customer service and due diligence in connection with a sale or transfer of the Office. In limited circumstances, we may disclose your health information to another entity subject to HIPAA for its own health care operations. We may remove information that identifies you so that the health information may be used to study health care and health care delivery without learning the identities of patients. We may disclose your age, birth date and general information about you in the Office newsletter, on activities calendars, and to entities in the community that wish to acknowledge your birthday or commemorate your achievements on special occasions.

OTHER ALLOWABLE USES OF YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

$ Business Associates. There are some services provided in our Office through contracts with business associates. Examples include medical directors, outside attorneys and a copy service we use when making copies of your health record. When these services are contracted, we may disclose your health information so that they can perform the job we've asked them to do and bill you or your third-party payer for services rendered. To protect your health information, however, we require the business associate to appropriately safeguard your information.

$ Providers. Many services provided to you, as part of your care at our Office, are offered by participants in one of our organized healthcare arrangements. These participants include a variety of providers such as physicians (e.g., MD, DO, Podiatrist, Dentist, Optometrist), and assistants.

$ Treatment Alternatives. We may use and disclose health information to tell you about possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

$ Health-Related Benefits and Services and Reminders. We may contact you to provide appointment reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you.

$ Payment. We may use and disclose Health Information so that we may bill and receive payment from you, an insurance company, or a third party for the treatment and services you received. For example, we may give your health plan information so that they will pay for your treatment. However, if you pay for your services yourself (e.g. out-of-pocket and without any third party contribution or billing), we will not disclose Health Information to a health plan if you instruct us to not do so.

$ Fundraising/Marketing Activities. Health Information may be used for fundraising communications, but you have the right to opt-out of receiving such communications. Except for the exceptions detailed above, uses and disclosures of Health Information for marketing purposes, as well as disclosures that constitute a sale of Health Information, require your authorization if we receive any financial remuneration from a third party in exchange for making the communication, and we must advise you that we are receiving remuneration.

$ Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care. Unless you object, we may disclose health information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your care. We may also give information to someone who helps pay for your care.

$ As Required By Law. We will disclose health information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local law.

$ To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may use and disclose health information about you to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. We would do this only to help prevent the threat.

$ Military and Veterans. If you are a member of the armed forces, we may disclose health information about you as required by military authorities. We may also disclose health information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

$ Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose health information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one treatment to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of health information, trying to balance the research needs with patient=s need for privacy of their health information. Before we use or disclose health information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process. We may, however, disclose health information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project so long as the health information they review does not leave the Office.

$ Workers' Compensation. We may disclose health information about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

$ Reporting Federal and state laws may require or permit the Office to disclose certain health information related to the following:

o Public Health Risks. We may disclose health information about you for public health purposes, including:

$ Prevention or control of disease, injury or disability;

$ Reporting child abuse or neglect;

$ Reporting reactions to medications or problems with products;

$ Notifying people of recalls of products;

$ Notifying a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease;

$ Notifying the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will only make this disclosure if you agree or when required or authorized by law.

o Health Oversight Activities. We may disclose health information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities may include audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

o Judicial and Administrative Proceedings: If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose health information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose health information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

o Reporting Abuse, Neglect or Domestic Violence: Notifying the appropriate government agency if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence.

$ Law Enforcement. We may disclose health information when requested by a law enforcement official:

$ In response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process;

$ To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person;

$ About you, the victim of a crime if, under certain limited circumstances, we are unable to obtain your agreement;

$ About criminal conduct at the Office; and

$ In emergency circumstances to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime.

$ National Security and Intelligence Activities. We may disclose health information about you to authorized federal officials for intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law.

$ Correctional Institution: Should you be an inmate of a correctional institution, we may disclose to the institution or its agents health information necessary for your health and the health and safety of others.

OTHER USES OF HEALTH INFORMATION

Other uses and disclosures of health information not covered by this Notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written permission. If you provide us permission to use or disclose health information about you, you may revoke that permission, in writing, at any time.
